

SY TO ROB A BANK.

Plainfield Bank Thieves Believed to Be Professionals.

Only a Few of Such Clever Ones Left in the "Profess."

Police Confident that They Can Locate and Capture Them.

(Special to The Evening World.)
PLAINFIELD, N. J., April 25.—There is an entry on the books of the First National Bank this morning that the officers of that institution wish was not there. It is:

"April 23, 1895. To the account of profit and loss, $22,765."

The money was the reward of two clever bank thieves, or, to use the parlance of the police, "bank snaks," and as there are very few men in the country considered capable of doing such an extraordinary piece of work the police are quite confident they will find the robbers.

The money which was stolen was in two packages, in one of which were $20,500 in new one, two and five dollar bills, the other consisted of mutilated bills, waiting to be sent to the Treasury for redemption. The money was taken last Monday.

There are seven employees of the bank, and they are on hand every day, and each one, it seems, has every day experience with strangers in the bank during the past week or so. On Monday, during the lunch hour, when there were in the bank Assistant Cashier Runyon, Bookkeeper, Val, Hookkeeper Haynes, a man who looked like a laborer walked in and said:

"A man outside wants to see Mr. Haynes."

Haynes went out and saw a man who looked like a farmer sitting in a wagon, which had been drawn up to the curb. The farmer asked him to do some bookkeeping, but Haynes saying he had no time, returned to the bank, and later went out to luncheon.

After he had gone a man with a pass-book came in and held the attention of Hookkeeper Val for some time, and it was then undoubtedly that the robbery took place.

Hookkeeper Corbin, when the bank was closing for the day, missed the packages of mutilated bills. In searching for them he discovered the loss of the other package, and in an instant the bank was in confusion and a thorough search was made, but without success.

President Charles Potter, Secretary William M. Stillman and Director J. Wesley Johnson were at the bank when it was decided to say nothing about the robbery until Tuesday, when at a meeting of the directors the amount was charged to profit and loss.

Two of the officials went at once to New York and told the details of the robbery to Supt. Byrnes and Detective-Sergeant McClellan.

The First National Bank of New York is correspondent of the Plainfield bank. There has been no run on the bank since the robbery was made known. The bank opened this morning at the usual time and the business progressed in the usual way. Some of the more anxious depositors called at the bank, and, after being assured by President Potter, that the bank was perfectly solvent went away without drawing out their deposit. President Potter said that there had been no unusual demands on the bank to-day and he didn't expect any.

RUN DOWN BY A MESSENGER.

Brokers' Clerk Frets Injured at the Stock Exchange.

A head-on collision occurred this morning in front of the Stock Exchange between a Stock Exchange messenger boy and Louis Fretz, a clerk for A. R. Pick & Co., brokers, at 29 Broad street.

The messengers attached to the Exchange have a practice of rushing from the building at top speed when sent on an errand, and this was the case this morning.

Fretz was just entering the door, also in a hurry, the messenger's head met Fretz's stomach and the clerk went down on the pavement in a heap. He lay there stunned by the blow.

Fretz was taken to the hospital, and the Superintendent of the Stock Exchange.

The "L" Train Knocked Him Aside.

George Mead, of 618 East One Hundred and Thirty-fifth street, while standing on the "L" platform at One Hundred and Thirty-third street on Tuesday, fell to the track. A passing train knocked Mr. Mead one side and two of his ribs were broken. Otherwise he was not injured.

The River Gives Up Its Dead.

At 7 A. M. to-day Matthew Culligan, of 317 West Forty-sixth street, was found drowned at the foot of West Forty-eighth street. He was an Englishman and had been in the city since the early part of March.

Augustin Daily His Bonanza.

Myer & Co., furniture dealers, of 246 Fifth avenue, have sued Manager Augustin Daily to recover $2,500, alleged to be due them on theatrical rights—brac, &c. The lawyer's clerk who went to Daily's Theatre to serve the summons had it nearly upsetting some of the audience who were entering at the time. The clerk threatens a personal damage suit.

The Steamer Sirius Held.

Capt. Ford, of the Lampert & Holt line steamer Sirius, from Santos and Rio Janeiro, reports two deaths during the voyage. On April 3 Chief Steward Robert Norman died after a brief illness, and on the 16th Arthur Cooke, a seaman, died from natural causes. Health officer duty deemed it prudent to detain the steamer for investigation and disinfection.

SENOR DE LOME HERE.

New Spanish Minister Arrived on the Panama from Cuba.

Senor Duguay de Lome, the new Spanish Minister to the United States, arrived last night from Havana on the steamer Panama. He was met by the Spanish Consul, Gen. Baldasano, shortly after the Panama left Quarantine.

Senor de Lome is a short, well-built man with black hair that is beginning to be shot with gray. He wears a pointed beard, trimmed closely, and speaks English fluently, with a marked French accent.

"My mission to America is to talk politics to the authorities at Washington," said Senor de Lome. "As for the matter of the firing upon the steamer Alliance I have nothing to say. It is a matter that seems already to have been satisfactorily settled."

"I must say, however, that I think it would have been wiser for the captain of the Alliance to have stopped when he was requested and then sought for indemnity afterwards."

Senor de Lome said it was his intention to stay in this city for the next few days if possible, to await the arrival of his family, who are en route to New York. The Minister remarked that the several changes of climate he had been through since leaving Spain had tired him considerably, and that he was anxious to have a few days' rest.

C. P. Huntington Will Go to France.

Judge Brown, of the United States District Court, although he was in his chambers, was indisposed to-day, and the hearing in the matter of Collis P. Huntington, for whom a warrant to take him to California is asked, was postponed until Wednesday afternoon next. It is stated that the septuagenarian millionaire will go to Europe on a pleasure trip within a fortnight, and probably some of the United States Marshal Mr. Carby's deputies will enjoy the pleasure of taking Mr. Huntington across the Continent, a prisoner, in his own private car.

Train-Robber Perry Stops Talking.

Train-Robber Oliver C. Perry, who is passing the time until Saturday in the Hudson County Jail, will not talk to reporters about his case.

WHOLESALE BANK CHANGES.

Shoe and Leather Bank Will Weed Out Its Old Clerks.

Angell Says Aymer's Scheme Was a Bold One.

Clarence Lampman, receiving teller of the National Shoe and Leather Bank, dismissed several days ago. His discharge is supposed to be due to the desire to get new blood in the bank.

Mr. Lampman had been in the bank eighteen years. He lives in Jamaica, L. I.

Vice-President Hiltner and President Crane both declare there is no charge of dishonesty against Lampman. Mr. Hiltner says it is in line with the reorganization of the bank, the intention being to get rid of a majority of the old clerks.

Mr. Hiltner said: "There is no suspicion against other employees of the bank, but at the same time, it is only fair for me to say that I propose, in pursuance of the plan of reorganization of the bank, to have an entirely new clerical force as rapidly as changes can be properly made."

"The men will be discharged gradually, however, because I do not want to cripple the force. I am now depending largely upon clerks borrowed from other banks. I have engaged a successor to Mr. Lampman, but will not make known his name until he assumes his duties on May 1."

The Board of Directors meets to-morrow at 10 o'clock, and it is believed Mr. Crane will be given to understand that he will be allowed to retain his position for a time in order that he may retire gracefully.

Lawyer Frank W. Angell said to-day he is informed that the Shoe and Leather Bank has had detectives shadowing a depositor, who is suspected of having been in collusion with Hiltner and Aymer.

"I can inform them, however," added Mr. Angell, "that the boys have been shadowing the wrong man. His name commences with the letter T, and that is not the right fellow."

"Then you admit Aymer had a confederate who was a depositor, but that the bank does not suspect the right man?" Mr. Angell was asked.

"But will you admit there was an additional account altered and that the bank knows nothing of it?" Aymer had a new scheme.

"I don't think," he was asked, "that Aymer was accustomed to receive the money and pass book of a depositor who was a confederate, that he kept this money and transferred enough from other accounts to make it good."

"I won't answer that question," he said.

Mr. Angell declared that of the three short accounts two were decreased $5,000 each and one $10,000. The Metropolitan Life Insurance account was altered, but afterwards made right.

"If it was not made right," Mr. Angell added, "my client has deceived me and he is worth $100,000."

It is understood that the indictment against Aymer will charge him with altering the Metropolitan Life Insurance Company's account.

In case the indictment is sufficient, Mr. Angell said, he would advise Aymer to plead guilty.

HEROIC WOMEN.

Their Struggle Against a Common and Merciless Enemy.

Woman's heroism is not evinced by fearlessness or enterprise in times of danger, but her courage and fortitude are unquestionable in time of suffering.

Think of the woman who smiles and cries to make those around her cheerful, while she is racked with the excruciating tortures of womb trouble.

Think of one who, day by day, begs her physician to help her, while the torture of tortures could not add to her misery.

Does she yield? No! She endures her agonies, and meets her friends with cheerfulness.

This is woman's heroism, and few men realize how prevalent they are. Physicians rarely render relief in such cases.

After twenty years of success, with ever-increasing popularity, Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound is, to-day, woman's only safe and sure refuge from inflammation, ulceration, falling and displacement of the womb, ovarian trouble, leucorrhoea, painful and suppressed menstruation, kidney trouble, nervous prostration, and all manner of distressing and life-sapping female diseases.

"O my sisters, believe what is told you of this wonderful medicine! Before I took it I had falling of the womb and leucorrhoea. My womb came down so badly I could not walk across the floor; the pain was excruciating; now all is so changed, and I am so happy. Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound has saved me from a life of misery. Don't, don't suffer, I say, when a cure is so easily obtained."—Mrs. WILLIAM HOWE, 103 Antoin Street, Detroit, Mich.
